

HUNTERDON HILLS ANIMAL HOSPITAL

WHITEHOUSE STATION, NEW JERSEY

Winner of the 2015 Veterinary Economics Merit Award for Hospital Design.

■ OWNER:

West Hen Vet, LLC
Whitehouse Station, NJ

■ ARCHITECT:

Silberstang Lasky Architects
New York, NY

■ SERVICES:

Preconstruction
Construction Management

Sweetwater completed this new 8,600 square-foot animal hospital in a nostalgic “milk barn” style. The facility design includes dog, cat and goat wards, 5 exam rooms, surgical, treatment, dental, pharmacy, lab, isolation, and ICU recovery areas. A reclaimed 19th-century Pennsylvanian barn will serve as the reception and waiting area. The silo contains a library and conference area.

The existing facility alongside the jobsite remained open with careful planning as to not disturb the visiting animals and their owners.

The reconstruction of the historic barn was filmed by a PBS documentary crew.